

Social, Moral, Spiritual and Cultural and British Values at Limehurst

SMSC and British Values are taught across the curriculum. In all aspects of the school's work and life and in our curriculum, teaching and learning we seek good and appropriate opportunities for pupils to grow in their spiritual awareness. We work hard to promote a good understanding of moral and ethical values to underpin our ethos and to provide foundations for good relationships within our community. As pupils grow and mature we place great importance on developing their social skills and social awareness. They learn about their own culture and about the diversity of cultures in this country and across the world.

In the academic year 2018-19, as a school we completed an audit, which led to a bank of evidence, showing the coverage throughout the key stages.

Teachers work hard to embed this into everyday situations as they arise.

Staff take their responsibility to prepare children for life in modern Britain very seriously. They ensure that the fundamental British Values are introduced, discussed and lived out through the ethos and work of the school.

All curriculum areas provide a platform for furthering the understanding of these concepts and, in particular, our RE and PHSE lessons provide excellent opportunities.
